

Ladder Safety – Overextending

Three Points of Contact – Anyone Recall This Principle?

Relate what you see here and how that principle is often not adhered to on many jobsites.

What kinds of hazard exposures would be associated with this over reaching during the use of this ladder.

What are some possible safe (realistic) alternatives?